

Foshan Huazhong Awarded “Special Contribution Awards of 1.3 Factory” for 2016 FAW-Volkswagen South China Base Suppliers

On January 17, 2017, 2016 FAW-Volkswagen South China Base Suppliers Quality Seminar & 2017 Quality Promotion Conference was held in the large conference room of Foshan factory of FAW-Volkswagen. Chen Dapeng, General Manager of Foshan Factory of FAW-Volkswagen, Zhang Baolin, Director of Cooperation Parts Quality Guarantee Department of FAW-Volkswagen, Jiang Hai, Quality Guarantee Department of Foshan Factory of FAW-Volkswagen and nearly 100 general managers and representatives of suppliers of south China base presented the conference which summarized the excellent performance of Foshan Factory of FAW-Volkswagen, i.e. realizing the goal of completing manufacturing 300,777 cars and the challenging targets of Audi’s special 1.3 factory. At the same time, Foshan Huazhong, as an excellent supplier, was appraised by leaders of various levels of FAW-Volkswagen and was awarded “Special Contribution Awards of 1.3 Factory”.

“1.3 Factory” is a characteristic parameter about quality of delivery reflected in Konzern Overall Vehicle Evaluation by Volkswagen Group, the smaller the figure is, the better the delivery is and the higher the customer satisfactory level is. All auto products of Volkswagen Group shall be certified. Only those high quality products certified to be 1.5 or below can be delivered. The parameter “1.3” means that it is the benchmarking factory of FAW-Volkswagen and is among TOP 10 of Volkswagen Group and is regarded as a model of quality in auto industry. General Manager Chen Dapeng mentioned in his speech that the car models of Foshan factory have never been among Top 10 of Volkswagen before it carried out “1.3 factory” event in June of 2016. After the event, the three models of Foshan factory have been appraised as one of top 10 of Volkswagen for ten times at the latter half of 2016. Among all those 10 times of appraisal, such models were top 1 for four times and were highly evaluated by the Board of Directors and the Operation and Management Conference of FAW and Volkswagen Group, two parent companies of FAW-Volkswagen. All these achievements depend on quality products of the excellent suppliers of Foshan Huazhong.

Quality is the cornerstone for the survival of enterprises, we believe that Foshan Huazhong will open a new chapter in 2017 with the assistance of leaders of FAW-Volkswagen at all levels and with the help of its own continuous efforts.
